2025 INTERIOR DESIGN TRENDS

Successful interior design is a balance between aesthetics, technology, practicality, and emotional comfort. Colours and styles should align with people's needs.

What's new in 2025:

- Interior colours: warm earth tones like sand, terracotta, and olive green.
- Materials: natural stone, wood, and marble stone.
- Faucet & shower system finishes: chrome, black, gold, rose gold, graphite, stainless steel, and their combinations.
- Innovation & ergonomics.

The role of the kitchen faucet:

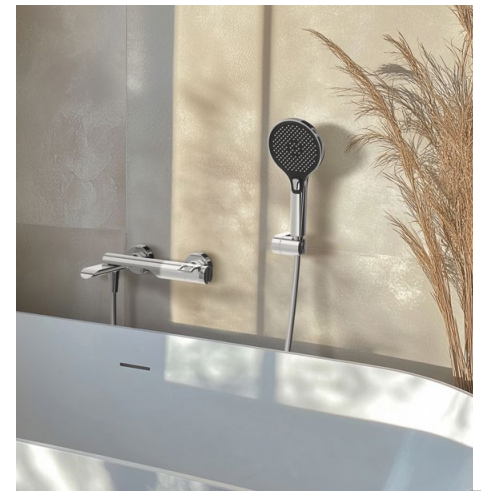

- Functionality and easy maintenance.
- A highlight of kitchen design.
- Blending seamlessly into the overall kitchen design.

Bathroom – a relaxation oasis

Key highlights:

- Functional faucets.
- Shower systems designed for comfort and relaxation.
- Thermostatic solutions for consistent water temperature.
- Water-saving solutions (eco-friendly showerheads, faucets, and aerators).
- Concealed installations for aesthetics and minimalism.

Rubineta – designed to meet customer needs

We create products that are:

- Easy to use, ergonomic, and functional.
- Resource-efficient: water-saving solutions and eco-friendly packaging.
- Reflecting design trends and elegance.
- Shaping a unique style.

"Keeping up with trends and even influencing them in the region, we are happy to show you coming bestsellers that respond to changing consumers needs." – Rūta Babič, head of Product department

Clean fresh water makes up only 3% of the world's water resources, and only 1% of water is suitable for drinking. Melting glaciers, rising sea levels, more frequent floods and droughts in individual regions of the planet, negative effects of increased pollution and other factors have impact on our planet. Saving natural resources and water is a particularly important goal. Therefore, we must all make a significant contribution to saving that 1% of drinking water supply.

RUBINETA PROTECTS NATURAL RESOURCES

RUBINETA products are designed with the idea that each product will function in a way that saves one of the most important natural resources – drinking water. Contactless faucets, water-saving aerators and faucet accessories that are optimally selected for assessing water consumption make a significant contribution to water savings. All this contributes to the rational use of our planet's drinking water resources.

THANK YOU to everyone who contributes to the important goal of water saving and chooses products offered by our company!
